

CONTINUING DENTAL EDUCATION
School of Dentistry
University of Minnesota

Winter Dental Hygiene Seminar: Hot Topics in Dental Hygiene Practice

*Saturday
February 18, 2006*

Continuing Education & Conference Center
St. Paul Campus

- 8:30 Changing Concepts of Biofilm & the Impact on Instrumentation Kandi Garland
New definition of biofilm
Objectives of Instrumentation
Current perspectives on instrumentation
Future trends in instrumentation
- 9:45 Refreshment break
- 10:00 Ethical Health Care & Dental Hygiene Practice Dr. Kathleen Newell
Ethical obligations of health care providers
Principles of ethics
Ethical decision making in dental hygiene practice
- 11:00 PANEL: questions and answers about biofilm, instrumentation, Ms. Garland & ethical health care and dental hygiene practice Dr. Newell
- 11:30 Luncheon (included)
- 12:30 Collaborative Agreements in Dental Hygiene Practice Nina Huntington
What is a collaborative practice?
How to set-up a program
Examples of dental hygienists currently in collaborative practice
- 1:45 Refreshment break
- 2:00 Motivational Interviewing: Preparing People to Change Behavior Chris Blue
Approaching oral self-care holistically
Presenting assessment data in a motivational fashion
Eliciting self-motivational statements
Applying strategies that lead to beneficial change

3:00 PANEL: Questions and answers about collaborative agreements and patient motivational interviewing in dental hygiene practice

Ms. Blue

3:30 Adjourn

SPEAKERS

Chris Blue, R.D.H., M.S., Clinical Specialist and Interim Director, Division of Dental Hygiene, Department of Primary Dental Care, School of Dentistry, University of Minnesota.

Kandi Garland, R.D.H., B.S., Clinical Assistant Professor, Division of Dental Hygiene, Department of Primary Dental Care, School of Dentistry, University of Minnesota.

Nina Huntington, R.D. H., B.S., Clinical Assistant Professor, Division of Dental Hygiene, Department of Primary Dental Care, School of Dentistry, University of Minnesota.

Kathleen Newell, R.D. H., Ph.D., Associate Professor, Division of Dental Hygiene, Department of Primary Dental Care, School of Dentistry, University of Minnesota.