

CONTINUING DENTAL EDUCATION
School of Dentistry
University of Minnesota

Pathways to Endodontic Excellence:
A Hands-on Program

Saturday,
September 27, 2008

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM
4-210 G Moos Tower and the 3M Foundation Simulation Center
University of Minnesota School of Dentistry

7:30 Final registration and assembly

7:55 Welcome and introduction

8:00 PATHWAYS TO ENDODONTIC EXCELLENCE:
PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Dr. Joseph Maggio

Hands-on Exercises

- canal preparation/rotary crown down
- plastic blocks
- extracted teeth

10:00 Refreshment break

10:15 Hands-on Exercises

- obturation—Resilon
- thermoplastic with the Elements/obturation system
- carrier based

11:45 Question and answer session

12:00 Adjourn

Speaker

Joseph D. Maggio, D.D.S., private practice limited to endodontics in Lisle, Illinois. Dr. Maggio received his dental degree from Loyola University, Chicago, Illinois and completed his residency in endodontics at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He is a former faculty member at Temple University, Loyola University, and Northwestern University. Currently he is a guest lecturer at Loma Linda University in California. Dr. Maggio has lectured nationally and internationally for over 30 years. He is a past president of the American Association of Endodontists (AAE). Dr. Maggio has received numerous awards and honors including the prestigious Edgar D. Coolidge Award from the AAE and the Warren Wakii Award from the Japanese Endodontic Society. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Endodontists and is a fellow of the American College of Dentists (FACD) and the International College of Dentists (FICD). Dr. Maggio serves as a member of the Advisory Committee on Endodontics for Sybron Dental.

The University of Minnesota gratefully acknowledges an unrestricted educational grant from Sybron Endo in support of this course.